SRI QUMARUL ISLAM (Gulbarga).—Mr. Speaker Sir, I want to raise an issue. Yesterday's Deccan Herald's editorial is given the heading 'Muslim Communalism'. It is an attack on the Muslim Leadership of India as well as it is an attack on the national leadership of India. Particularly in this Editorial it is written that Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru is guilty to encourage the communalism in India.

MR. SPEAKER.—Please hear me. You say it is editorial. I am concerned with the reporting of the House. Please consult books and then raise the matter.

SRI QUMARUL ISLAM.—Sir, what I wanted is that when the situation is such in the State, I just read out

MR. SPEAKER.—Please hear me. That is purely the right of the editor. You please consult the books. We are concerned with the reporting of the proceedings of this August House. After going through the procedure, after going through the various decisions, after going through the books concerned and all those things if you are not satisfied and if you still feel, you can raise the matter. That is a different matter.

SRI QUMARUL ISLAM.—With such a situation we have all met and the Chief Minister said.....

MR. SPEAKER.—Please hear me. I am not here to advise the editor or you are not here to advise the editor as to what he should write and what he should not.

SRI QUMARUL ISLAM.—It plays an important role. When this House has taken a point and when we are here to bring the communal harmony such an editorial.....

MR. SPEAKER.—That is a different aspect. Please consult the books as I said. Why don't you take some more time or exercise your mind and then raise the issue? Next item.
